

REMOTE SECOND OPINION PROGRAM

The Children's National Remote Second Opinion (RSO) Program provides you and your child access to leading pediatric specialists at Children's National Hospital, so you can be informed of your options prior to deciding on your child's care - without ever having to leave your home.

A pediatric expert will review your child's medical information, including any radiology and pathology reports, and compile their findings into a comprehensive written report that is shared directly with your treating physician.

The RSO fee starts at US $1,000, and it can increase based on the number of specialties consulted and if radiology or pathology review is requested.

OUR PROGRAM OFFERS:

- Direct access to a designated clinical intake team to assist you through the process
- Online submission of clinical information and radiology studies
- Medical review by Children's National pediatric specialists
- Comprehensive written medical second opinion report
- Post-opinion follow-up and assistance with referrals

HOW IT WORKS

To start, follow our easy 3-step process:

STEP 1: SUBMIT A REQUEST

Submit your child's demographic and clinical information by filling out the Medical Evaluation Request Form. To successfully complete the form, have the following information available:

- Parent and child's demographic information and medical records in English
- Contact information of your local treating physician

Once the form is submitted, the clinical intake team can provide additional guidance if you have radiology images or pathology slides to share.

STEP 2: ASSIGNING AN EXPERT

Our clinical intake team reviews the records and connects with the appropriate specialty team to assign an expert to provide the medical opinion. Additional information may be requested as needed.

STEP 3: REVIEW OF MEDICAL INFORMATION

A written report is provided to your local treating physician via email within 7-10 business days upon receipt of the required documentation and payment.

THANK YOU for considering Children's National for a remote second opinion. We are honored to connect patients from all over the world with our pediatric experts to receive the best treatment possible.
